*"She looks upon his lips, and they are pale;
She takes him by the hand, and that is cold;
She whispers in his ears a heavy tale,
As if they heard the woeful words she told:
She lifts the coffer-lids that close his eyes,
Where, lo! two lamps, burnt out, in darkness lies:
O how her eyes and tears did lend and borrow!
Her eyes seen in the tears, tears in her eye;
Both crystals, where they view'd each other's sorrow,
Sorrow, that friendly sighs sought still to dry;
But like a stormy day, now wind, now rain,
Sighs dry her cheeks, tears make them wet again."*

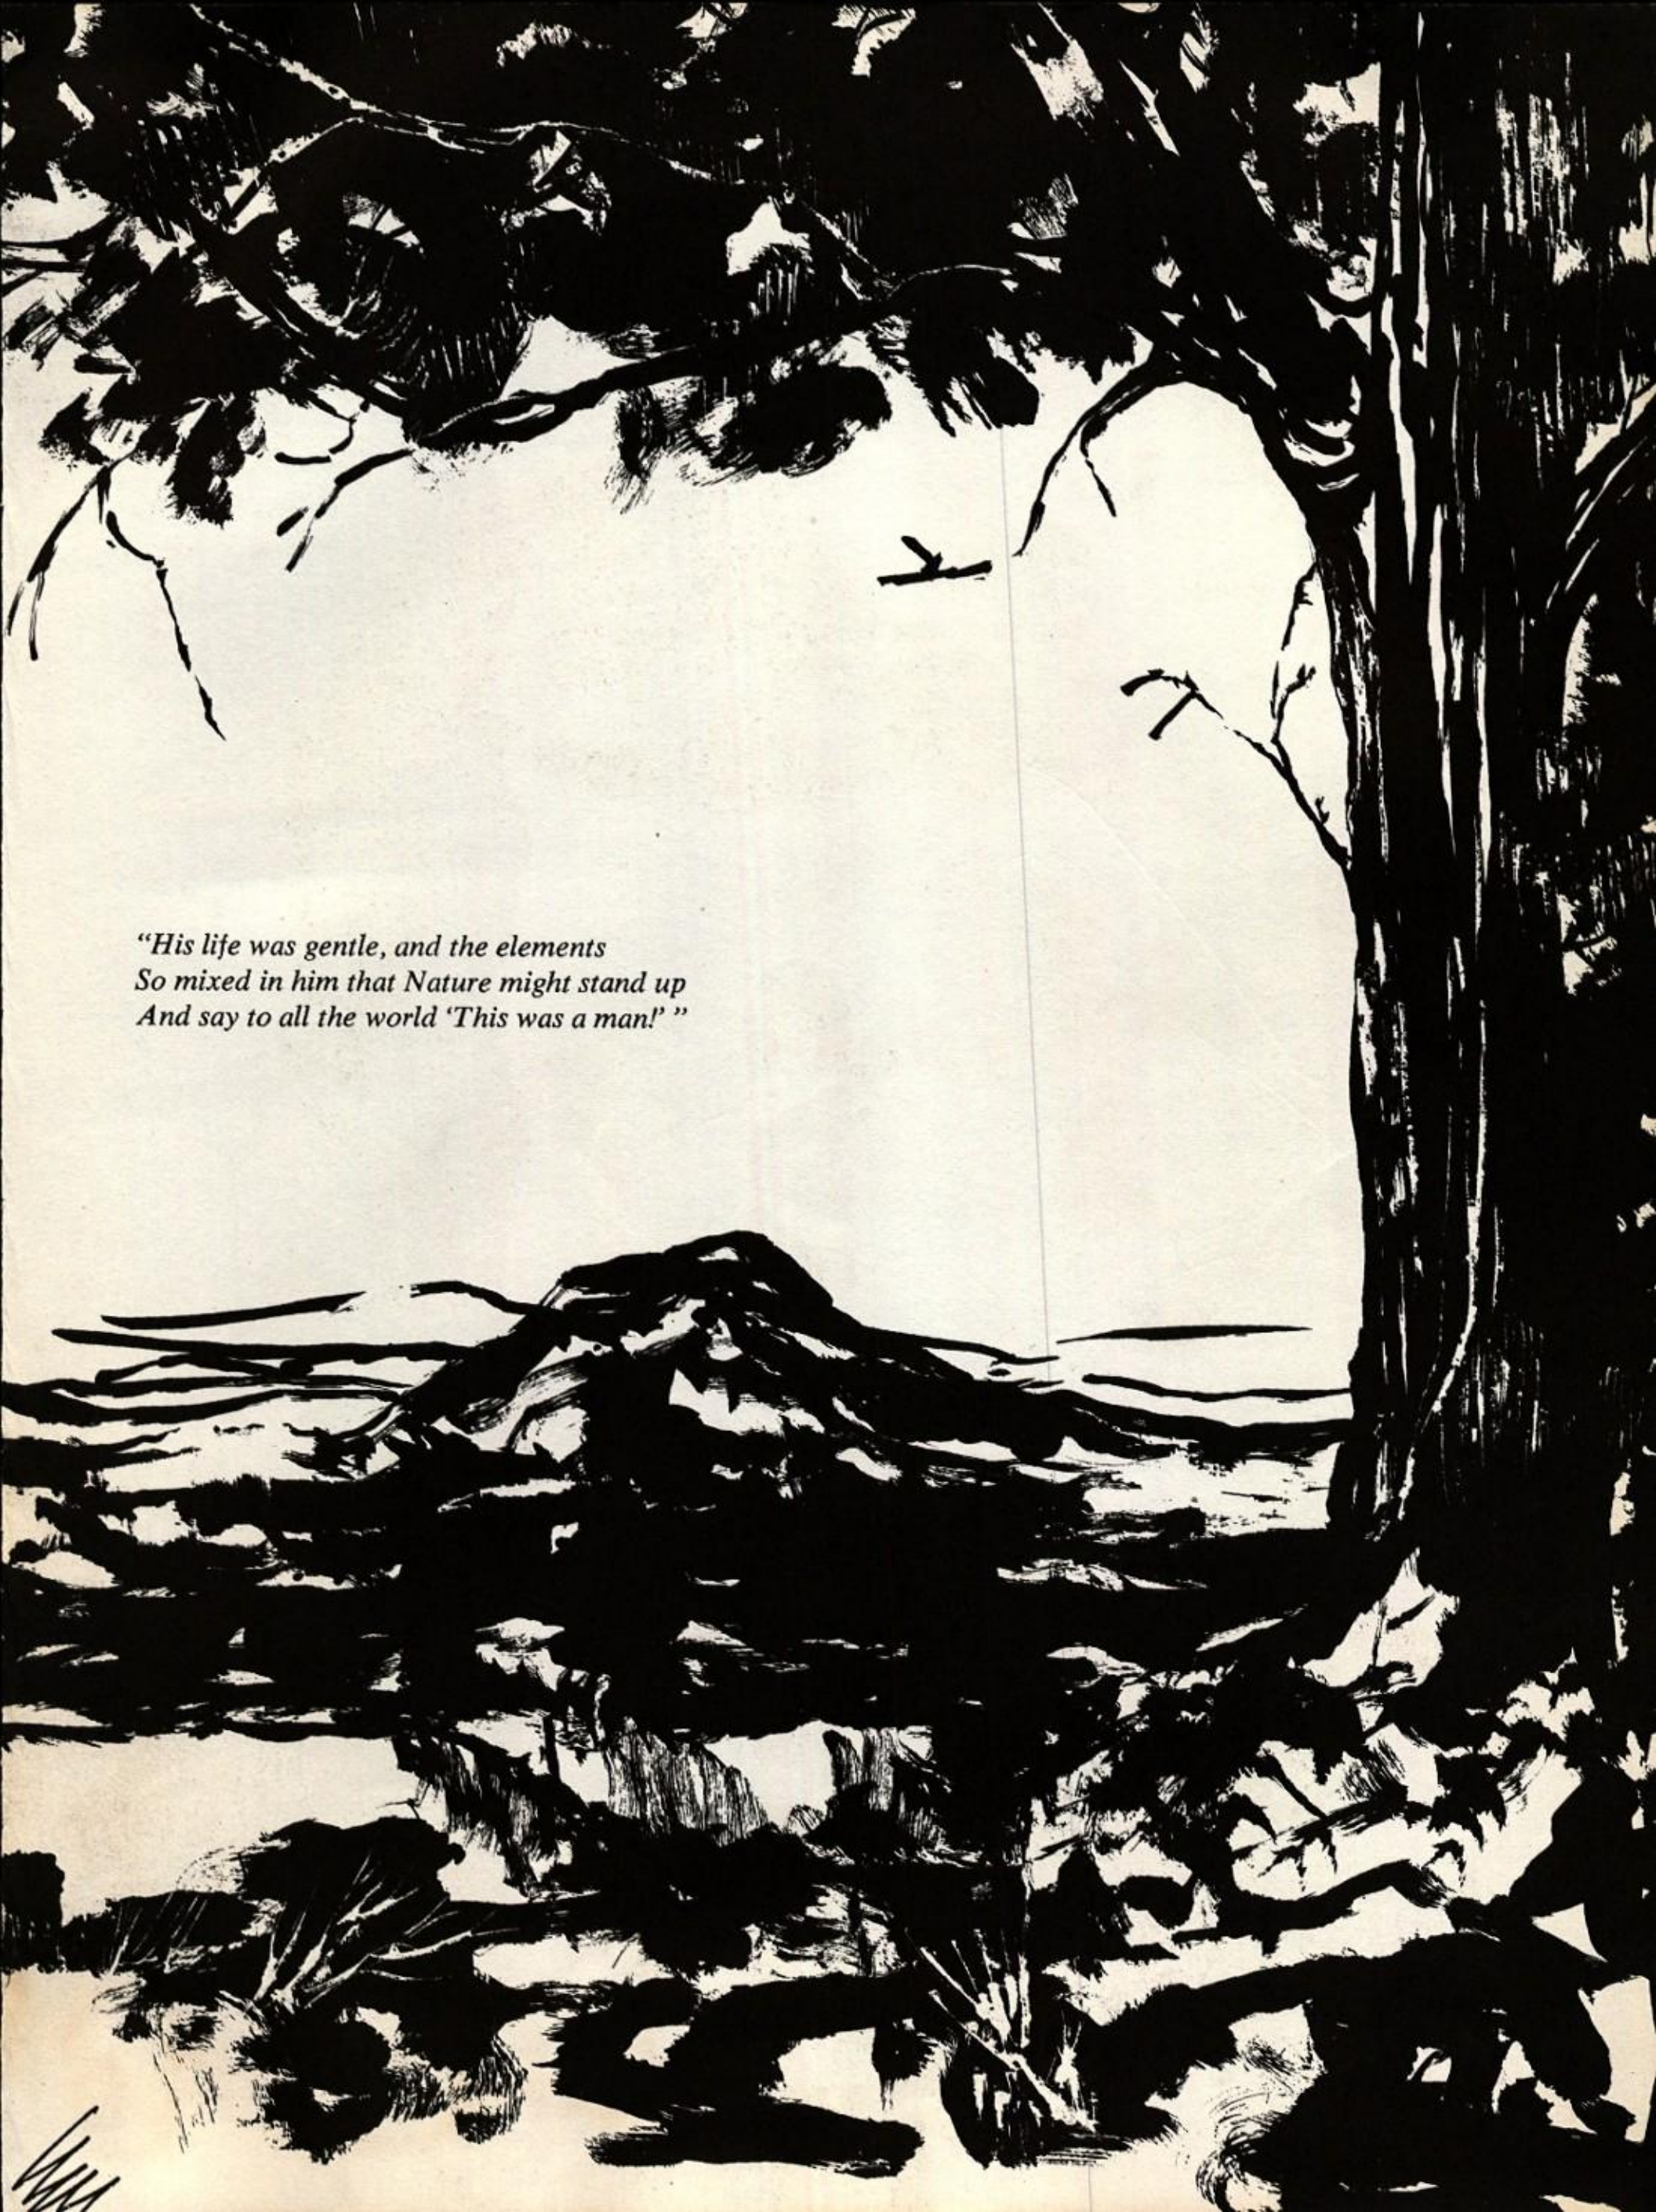

*"Alas, poor world, what treasure hast thou lost!
What face remains alive that's worth the viewing?
Whose tongue is music now? what canst thou boast
Of things long since, their colours fresh and trim;
But true-sweet beauty liv'd and died with him."*

■ A well rounded education is never completed unless a person has visited and studied the cultures outside his country. We are very fortunate to have an art instructor in our high school with this well rounded education—Miss Mabel Bates. As an exchange teacher to England, Miss Bates has returned to share with us the colorful and exciting cultural experiences of England and Western Europe. She has since been appointed the art co-ordinator of the Lancaster School System. We know Miss Bates as the teacher who worked countless hours in the past years to successfully complete yearbooks, to photograph all school activities and most important, to be our guiding and helping art teacher.

Thank you Miss Bates ☐

■ Mr. Vincent Kane arrived at the Lancaster High School in the fall of 1960 with a never ending arsenal of ambitions, plans, hopes and understanding. Since we have tried to draw on this arsenal so that we, the senior class, could march proudly from the days of yesteryear to the citizens of tomorrow. We are proud and thankful, Mr. Kane, that we could have you as a friend, helper, advisor and most of all teacher. We are going to leave Lancaster High School, but we will remember the traveling experiences of English, the exciting journeys of history, the many happy activities of the student council and the never failing issues of our newspaper.

Thank you Mr. Kane ☐

mr. kling retires

Herman William (Bill) Kling, principal of Lancaster Central Senior High School, announced his retirement. At a faculty meeting at the school he told those present that he would end his 40 years with the Lancaster School System June 30, 1965, but would not be returning after this June. The Board of Education has given him a year's sabbatical leave of absence in recognition of his services to Lancaster.

Upon his retirement, Mr. Kling and his wife plan to travel "and see some of the things we've always wanted to see, such as the Rose Bowl game and the Tournament of Roses parade," he remarked.

Mr. Kling has been an ardent supporter of athletics, and has coached football, baseball, basketball, and track over the years. Last year the school named its new football stadium in his honor, the Bill Kling Stadium.

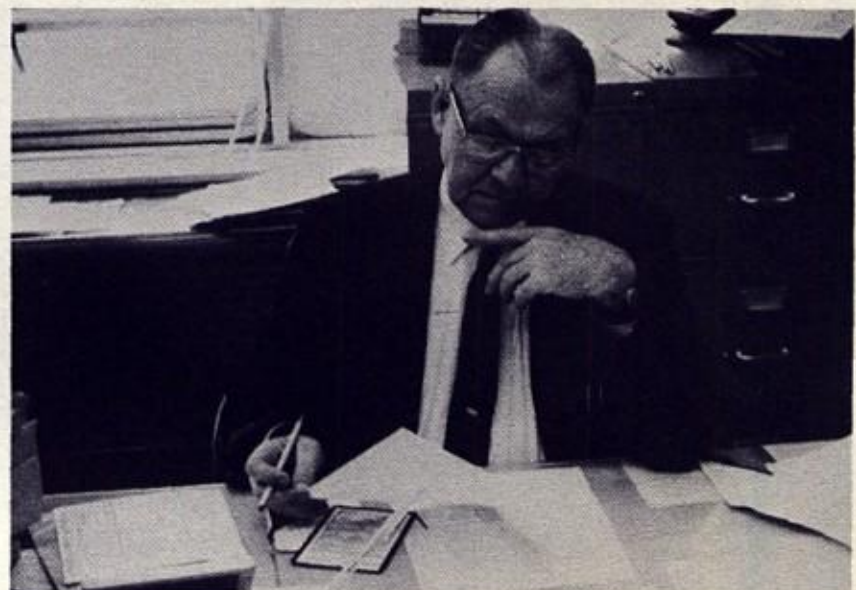

He received his bachelor of science degree from Syracuse University and later did graduate work at Buffalo State Teachers College. He is a member of Alpha Sigma Phi national social fraternity at Syracuse, and is also a member of Phi Delta Kappa national educational honorary fraternity.

Continuing to work with youth, he spent two years as a student instructor at Syracuse University, and then went into public school teaching, but dropped it to try his hand at the construction business. But in 1924 he came to Lancaster High School as a science teacher, to stay a couple of years, he said, and never left.

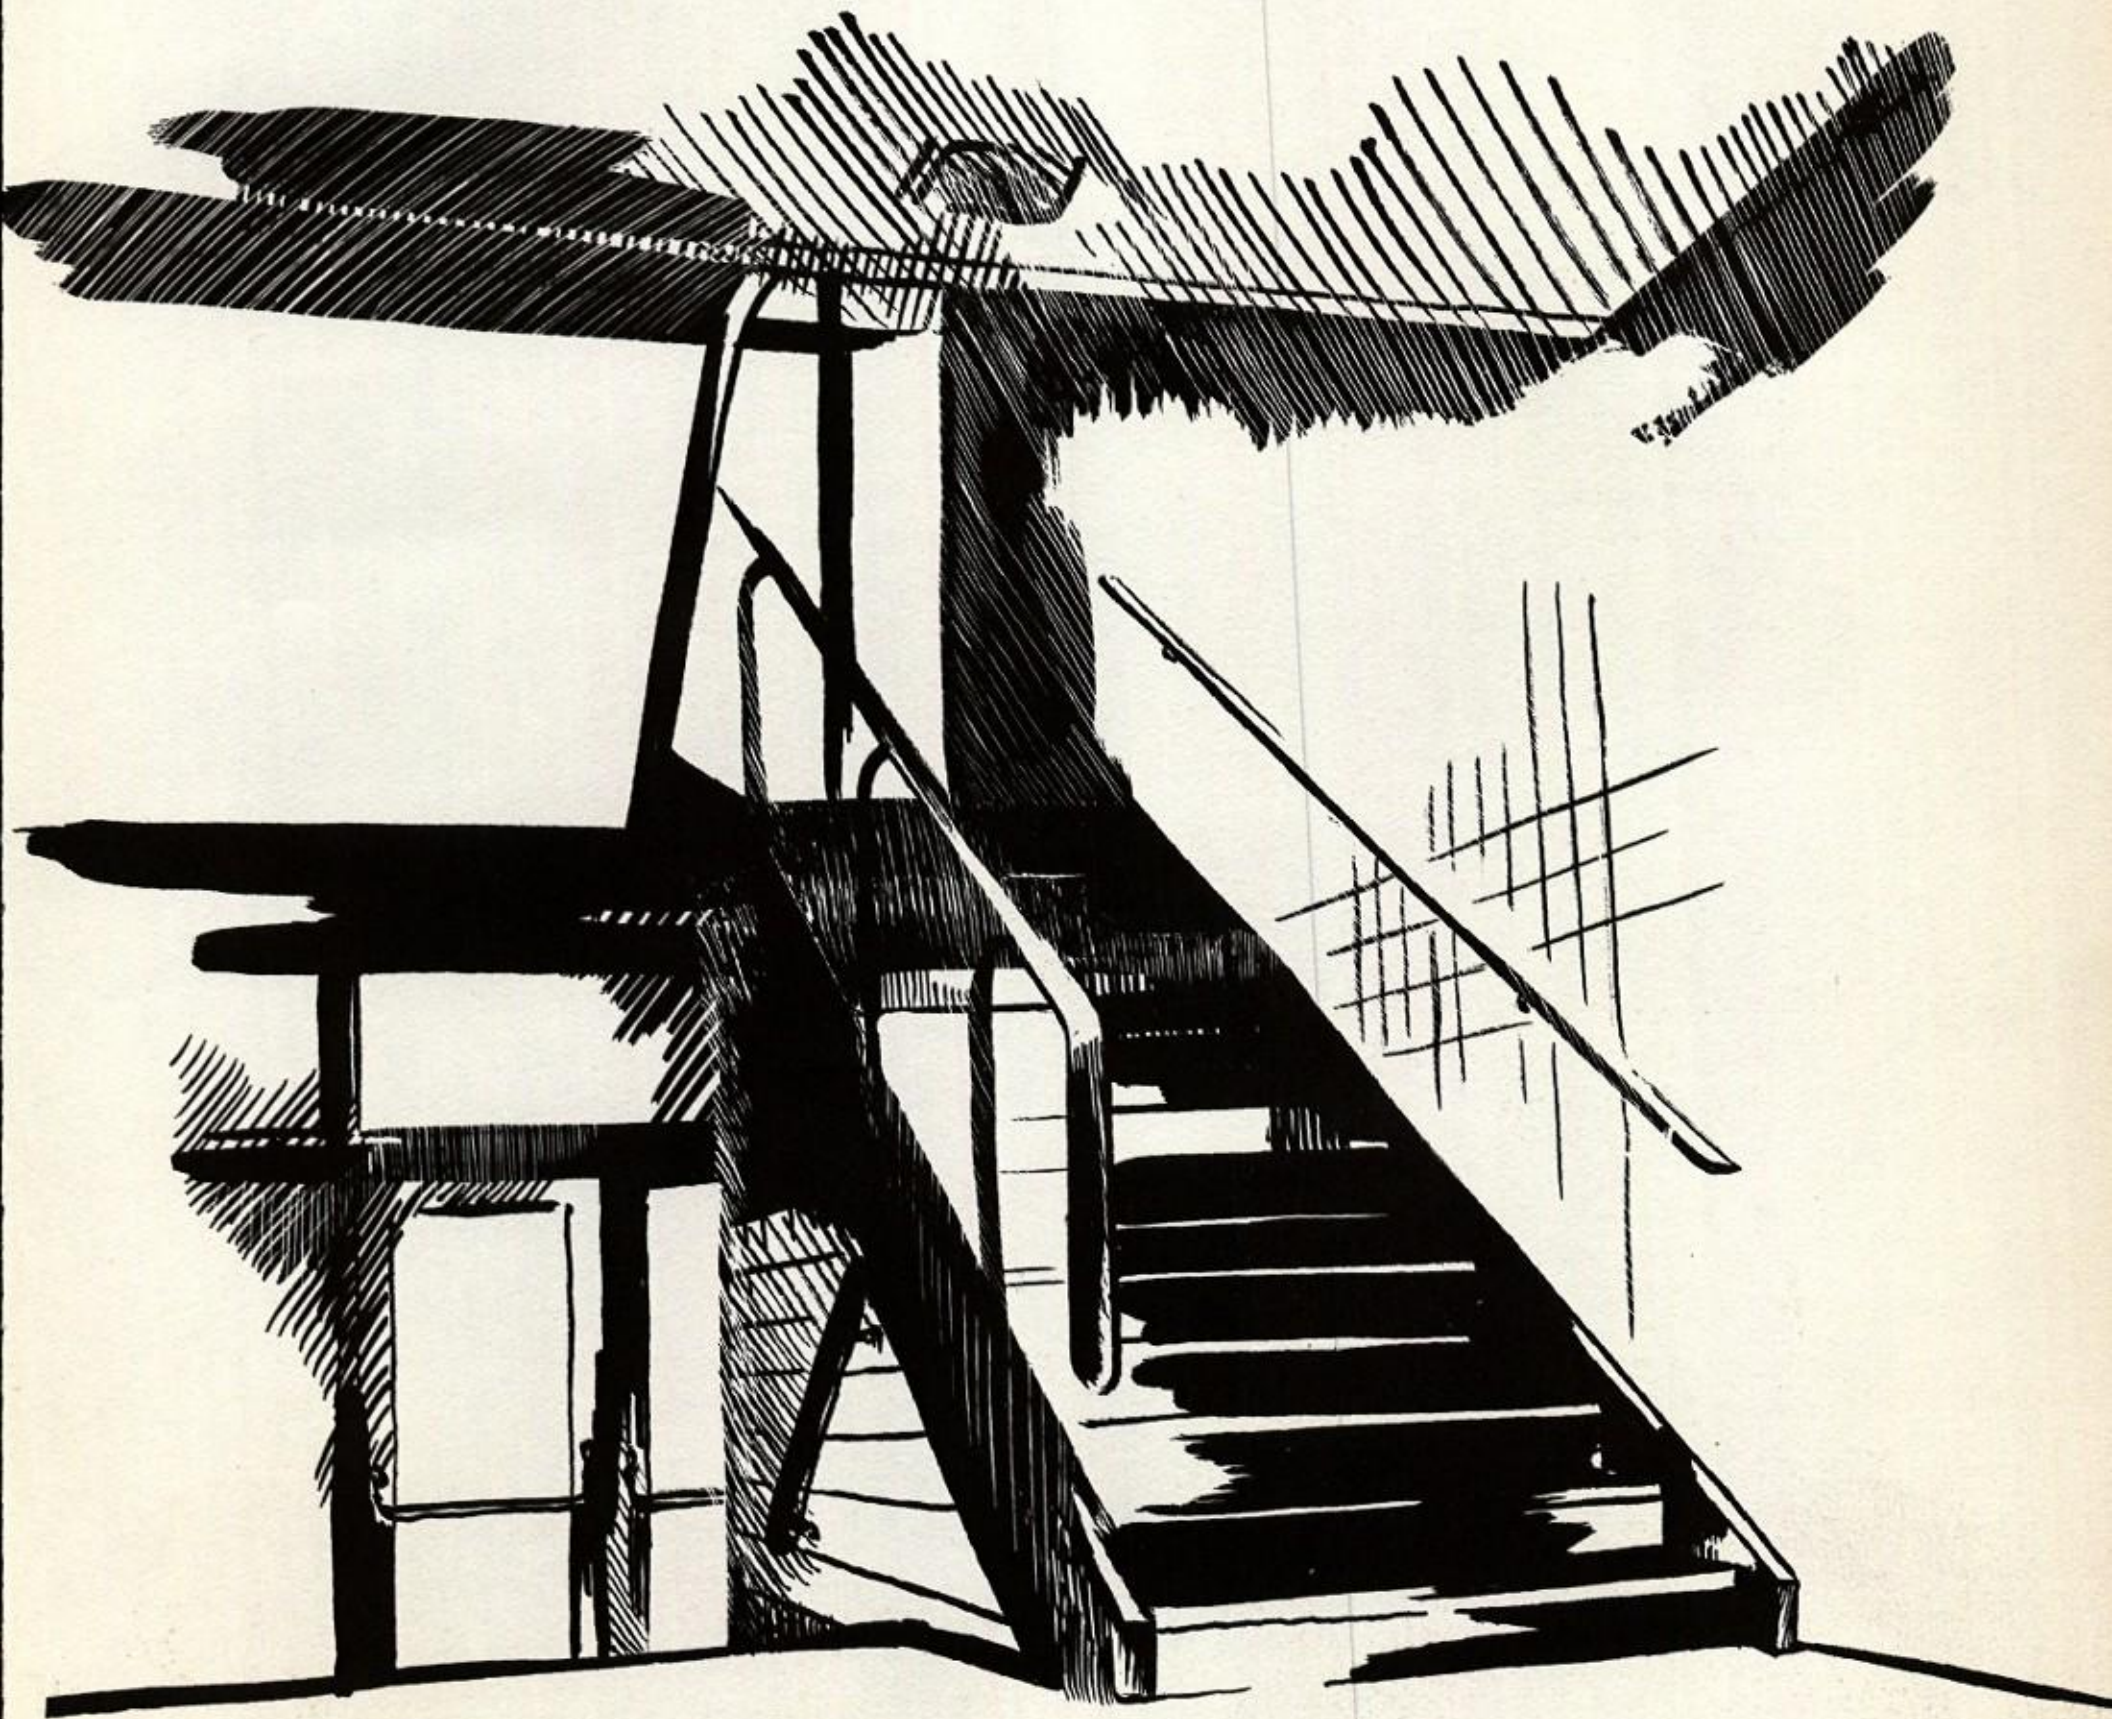

He was principal of the junior high school, and when Lancaster became a 6-year junior-senior high school in 1948, he was named principal of grades 7 through 12. This position he retained until the completion of the new high school on Central Avenue, in 1957 when he became senior high school principal.

Mr. Kling was instrumental in the development of audio-visual aids in the school system. Many of the so-called "new" trends in high school teaching, such as team teaching, homogenous grouping, etc., were introduced and tried under his supervision.

He said that when he came to Lancaster in 1924 there were 17 in the graduating class. The first year he was Jr.-Sr. High principal in 1949 there were 107 graduates. Now, his last year at Lancaster, the class of 1964 will boast of about 285.

■ The experience of the class of 1966 has been one of awakening—the profound experience of entering a new life and adjusting to it. The members of this class have met success, in the “HillBilly Hop,” semi-success in the building of a class treasury and failure in a snowless toboggan party. A doughnut sale and class picnic were also features of the sophomore year.

All of these experiences have in some way benefited the class of 1964. Failure has developed strength and success has resulted in confidence □

activities

■ The Student Council is the governmental body of the school, represented by the students for the students. The members are chosen from the respective home rooms to obtain information on school matters for the students they represent. There are many functional activities sponsored by the Student Council, beneficial to both faculty and students.

Members of the Student Council began the current school year with a highly successful Home-Coming dance the first week of school. Shortly thereafter, new representatives were chosen for the council. The newly elected members swiftly staged a student variety show—proceeds of which were donated to the United Fund of Buffalo.

A major responsibility shouldered by the Student Council was to promote and support school spirit in the area of sporting events. This year's council has continued with the traditions of the past in promoting school color and tag day events. Selling boosters of basketball and football pins is also another method of developing spirit in the athletic fields.

During the 63-64 school year, the Lancaster Student Council joined both the National and State Associations. As a symbol of recognition, the National and State Associations have presented distinctive membership pins to the members of this council. The design on the pin is exclusively reserved for Lancaster High School.

Last year for the first time, the council sent student delegates to a Student Council Workshop at Oswego University, Oswego, New York, for a week.

Members of this year's council were able to send a student to the leadership training school at Syracuse University. There is also hope of having representatives at the National Student Council Association meeting in Bangor, Maine.

In conclusion, it would be safe to say that the Student Council soon managed to get in the stride of things and are more than eager to cooperate with school authorities, the faculty, and the various committees in any way. They are both happy and proud to be members of the Lancaster 1963-64 Student Council □

Boom . . . Boom.Boom.Boom

In the fall of 1961, a pow-wow was called in Lancaster High School by the Student Council Redskins with the then acting chief "Broken Horse" Kane. The pipe was passed from brave to brave and finally "Broken Horse" announced that too much news had to be told to each tribe too often, and to send smoke signals every hour was too blinding. It was suggested that each tribe write their activities on paper and all the papers would be collected and reproduced and redistributed. "Broken Horse" suggested that the papers be called a "newspaper" and should be named the "Smoke Signal." Yes, many moons have passed since this pow-wow, but the Smoke Signal has still survived. Now, 40 braves collect the news and Princess "Horn of Plenty" Hartke is in charge.

"song of the islands"

■ The Junior-Senior Prom was held May 10, 1963. The excellent orchestra provided the atmosphere for a pleasant evening with the theme "Song of the Islands." The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the King, Jerry Griffiths and the Queen, Monica Daller by Bob Hammersmith and Marty Conklin, the 1962 royal couple □

■ The Key Club is a service club for high school boys. It operates under school regulations and draws its membership from the student body, but differs from other high school organizations in its sponsorship, aims, and program. The local Kiwanis Club, composed of leading men of the community, sponsors the group in co-operation with the school officials. The Key Club aims to develop initiative, leadership ability, and good citizenship practices. The program includes service in the school and in the community. Among its activities have been a "Slave Sale" and a car wash. The members also helped at the Kiwanis Pancake Dinner. One student participated in a workshop sponsored by the American Cancer Society, and another was elected Lieutenant-Governor of the Niagara District South Key Clubs □

■ Lancaster Central DECA Club is a local chapter of a State and National Organization. The purpose of the club is to promote interest in selling as a life work. Because selling is one of the ranking areas of employment, and because retailers are striving to encourage young people to consider selling as a means of livelihood, schools have been offering retailing as a course of study in preparation for a life-work. Colleges also have recognized the need for further training of young people in this field of endeavor, and have enlarged their curricula to provide college-level preparation for those interested. Retailing, however, is one area of employment where an individual may progress at whatever pace he chooses. There are so many categories of jobs in retailing that there is room for everyone with distinct abilities and intellects. A person seeking executive, semi-executive, administrative, semi-administrative positions or clerking, stock-keeping, receiving, cashiering, record-keeping, personnel, credit, and many other jobs, has only to set his sights and to pursue his aims. DECA offers high schools an opportunity to become acquainted, to some degree, with the various aspects of retailing. It affords a social means as well as a practical approach to a career. The annual DECA contests create a friendly competitive atmosphere and bring together DECA students from the other area schools □

math club

■ The Math Club is affiliated with Mu Alpha Theta, the national honorary mathematics fraternity for senior high school and junior college students. Membership requirements include outstanding accomplishment in mathematic courses, high aptitude for mathematics and wholesome interest in the subject. At meetings, which are usually held bi-monthly, the members present reports based on their own research into topics not covered during the school year. In the spring of each year a much needed picnic is held for the members of the Math Club for the sole purpose of relaxation. Mr. Lindsay is the faculty advisor of the Math Club □

future nurses

■ Members of the Future Nurses Club know that soon all of the training and learning experienced from this club will be practiced as the student diligently trains to become a nurse. The club was organized for this purpose—to aid the student in matters regarding the nursing profession, to familiarize the members with nursing techniques, and to introduce our future nurses to areas of specific specialization. There are many activities which provide on-the-spot experiences for the club that cannot be derived from textbooks.

Problems that arise are discussed by students and advisor, Mrs. Vasbinder. Community services, contributions to medical research, and fund raising campaigns, are just a small part of the many activities undertaken by our club nurses. In health, the members hope to travel from avid students to dedicated trainees to professional adults □

future teachers

■ The Future Teacher Association, open to all of the Lancaster Senior High School students was organized in 1958 for those students contemplating a career in education. At club meetings the group, under the able leadership of Mr. Roessel, discusses many prerequisites necessary for entering the teaching profession. The selecting of the correct institute of learning is a very important factor for a student aspiring to become a teacher. The members discuss various colleges and universities at meetings and the general qualifications for teaching are considered. Students must not only be distinguished for their scholarship, but also for their outstanding character, leadership, and service to the school. Under the direction of Miss Diana, this club performs many services such as selling wrapping paper and sponsoring school pictures. exchange students

■ The American Field Service Club at Lancaster is an active student group. The group was established in 1961 to promote interest in the A.F.S. program. Student Exchange Programs diversify the student body and bring a kind of living learning that cannot be obtained from textbooks. In the past years the membership has almost tripled.

This year the students met Gretar Sigurbergson, a boy from Iceland. He was born and has lived all of his eighteen years in the capital, Reykjavik. He lives with his father, mother, and three brothers.

In Lancaster he is staying with the Kinner family, with Marty as his sister. He loves America, our school, and most of all our summer weather. He thinks our winters are too cold!

When he returns home, after a trip with fellow A.F.S. students, he would like to further his education and become either an architect or an engineer □

international fellowship

■ Another group in our community is the International Fellowship. This organization sponsors the exchange of students between North and South Americas. We currently have in our school three such students. They are Marco Fernandez, Maria Navarro, and Miguel Gianzone. Georgiana Kehr, and William Zielinski participated in this program and were in South America for the summer.

Marco Fernandez was born in Guayaquil, Ecuador and is now 16 years old. He is living with the Chester Zielinski family in Lancaster. In South America he lives with his father, mother, older brother, and his dog Sultana. After Marco finishes his last year of high school, he would like to go on to a university and study architectural engineering.

Maria Navarro was born in Bucaramanga, Colombia. At her home she has four brothers and one twin sister. Her father is an insurance manager for a large company in Colombia. She is currently living with the Hergot family in Depew. The thing that she loves most about America is the snow. She never saw snow before in her life.

Miguel Pablo Gianzone is another participant in this program. He is from Cordoba and is 17 years old. While his father is out servicing radios and televisions, his mother is busy at home as a housewife. Mike has a sister who is eighteen. When he returns to Argentina he plans to study electronics at a university □

■ Last year the Lancaster Central Senior High School Thespians presented "Carousel" as their spring musical—, under the direction of Mrs. DeAlton Warren. Monica Daller, William Stutzman, Adrienne Dompkowski, Cheryl Hornung, and Peggy Ruppert played the leading roles. A great deal of appreciation and thanks are given to all—the faculty and students—for helping this fine group turn out a successful production □

saturday art classes

■ Under the direction of Miss Mabel Bates, the students of Lancaster Central Senior High School are able to participate in the Saturday Morning Art Classes. The main purpose of the art class is to provide the students time to further their abilities in art. These students, along with their advisor, practice techniques in various forms of art, such as, drawing, painting, and sculpturing.

This group has enthusiastically organized field trips and has spent many valuable hours learning new methods of art. This group has successfully mastered the art profession and will continually prosper in this field □

music council

■ The Music Council, under the direction of Mr. Marlo Schermerhorn, efficiently organizes the functions of the school's music programs. Two members are selected to represent each of the various organizations—band, orchestra, mixed chorus, and girl's chorus. Along with Mr. Clarence Kemp and Mr. Schermerhorn, the group has successfully produced an outstanding Christmas program with the highlight of the year being the annual spring concert □

■ Two very active organizations at Lancaster High School are the concert band and the pit band, both under the direction of Lancaster's Mister Music—Clarence Kemp. The students in the concert band perform not only in the school, but have concerts at Wende and the Lockport Home. This year they spent a day in Canada.

The pit band, a comparatively small group, plays for home basketball games, assemblies, and pep rallies. This group also participates in the Performing Art Festivals at Alfred Tech. The concert band served as an exquisite marching band last fall. Members received new uniforms and wore them proudly at the home football games and on Homecoming Day at the University of Buffalo. The students take part in the spring concert, all-state and all-county programs, and the New York State School Music Association competition festival.

The members of the band have, for the first time, toured St. Catherines and Hamilton, performing for well over 3,000 people. A fine dinner party followed this tour at Prudhomme's Garden Center □

track

■ As the oncoming track season begins, Coach Walter is looking forward to seeing almost all of last year's athletes return to the team. He is counting on this year's team to maintain Lancaster's favorable track record and feels they will try their best.

Among the enthusiastic trackmen returning this year are Nick Turano and Fred Watson in the 100 and 220, Leo Gregory and Bob Edwards in the 440, Mike McAlpine in the one-half mile, Jim Hughes and Ross McMillen in the mile and two mile, Doug McKenzie in the broad jump and discus, and Rick Hammer in the high jump.

Coach Walter regrets that Val Samulski, a most outstanding runner, will not return to the team this year. Last year, Val broke a record almost every time he ran. While running in the individuals, Val received an injury which caused him to lose the sectionals. His greatest achievement was when he almost equaled the E.C.I.C. record in the 180 yard low hurdles □

tennis

■ Seven boys from last year's tennis squad were lost through graduation and Coach Lang presently faces a season of rebuilding. Six of the twelve boys playing this year are sophomores. Andrew Chaples, James Restall and James Roberts returning from last year's competition will form the active nucleus of this year's team.

■ The 1963-64 Wrestling Team has proven that success is the result of team effort, determination, and a long series of laborious workouts. Under the direction of teacher, coach, and part-time drill instructor Ronald Bouchier, the grapplers managed to break a 43 MEET LOSING STREAK BY DEFEATING DEPEW BY THE SCORE of 31 to 21. For the first time in four years the matmen have drunk from the silver chalice of success—the coveted cup of a champion.

Stressing careful nutrition and meticulous diet, the Ithaca-trained mentor proved that winning can be the sum total of effort and enthusiasm. According to the coach, "A wrestler must maintain body control under combative conditions in order to win." Mike McAlpine proved this when he took fourth place in the Erie County Interscholastic Conference AA Sectionals. Mike, who wrestles in the 130 pound weight class, finished in fourth place in a tournament representing fifteen schools.

Participation in wrestling aids in the development of personality and social values. The purpose of wrestling is to promote physical fitness to all types of individuals, no matter how much the athlete may weigh. Self-reliance, courage, and good sportsmanship are attained through the fine art of wrestling □

■ Coach John Walter's 1963-64 Basketball Team finished their regular season's play with a nine win and a nine loss school record. The season was highlighted by the fine double win over Depew in two separate contests by the scores of 48 to 38 and 56 to 33. Lancaster also defeated St. Mary's of Lancaster by the score of 66 to 52.

Carl Monti, the six foot five inch Walter-trained junior, was second place in scoring in the E.C.I.C.

Division I. Carl ended his regular season play with a total of 402 points. A new school record was set by Carl in total points scored in one game when he netted 38 points in the Hamburg game. Dave Lipke was the second highest Lancaster scorer. Dave ended his junior year of play with a total of 171 points.

Coach Walter looks at next year's team with much optimism. His entire first team will return to be a threat in the E.C.I.C. championship race □

■ The Lancaster Central Senior High School's Varsity Basketball team has, upon almost every encounter, been nobly preceded by a group of well-coached players—the Junior Varsity. Coach Everett Woodard's men have invariably attempted to reflect the status and dignity of Lancaster High School by emitting 100% of heart, effort, and enthusiasm. The varsity juniors played a well-developed brand of basketball and emerged as winners for six of their eighteen conflicts.

The season was highlighted by the defeat of Depew Junior Varsity twice, and the near-upset victory over Maryvale by the score of 56 to 57. Star performers on the team would include such outstandings as Lee Stellrecht, Rick Dirringer, Gary Worthington, Fred Hess, Steve Valle, Phil Bund, and Gary Makuch.

Coach Woodard's floormen are avidly awaiting the time when all of their endured efforts and previous trainings will ultimately result in well rounded athletes, and members of the 1964-65 Varsity Basketball team □

■ At the end of October, the 1963-64 soccer team found they had much more than an impressive record to reflect their season's work, Coach Johann Roesch showed his boys that hard work and long hours inevitably result in a number of qualifications that constitute a good athlete. Through losing, the members of the team have actually won. Coach Roesch has proven that every member of his team had the common denominator of a good athlete—sportsmanship and integrity. The old adage has again been proven by the Lancaster soccer team—"It makes no difference if you win or lose, but how you play the game." □

■ The Lancaster Mermen finished the 63-64 season in fourth place. Outstanding in scoring were Niles Kin, Floyd Kruschke, John Stock, Dave Witt, Ross McMillan, and Jim Troppman—all of whom qualified and swam in the Erie County Interscholastic Conference championships. They also swam in the Section VI AA championships, finishing in fourth place. Most of the school records were lowered again this year. Co-captains John Stock and Niles Kin did a fine job in setting the pace during the long pre-meet conditioning period.

A new addition to the cheering staff this year has been the glamorous, eye-catching mermaids. Swimming enthusiasts have found that in almost every event the 63-64 mermen have broken school records. Perhaps these amphibious stimulants should float into other athletic activities to provide a 100% win environment! □

■ With Mr. Ronald Bouchier narrowing the backfield down to a fine clocklike precision and Mr. Joseph Foyle shaping the line into a rugged powerhouse, the 1963-64 football team advanced from inexperience to an aggressive threat in the Double A, Division One race. The redskins proudly finished in second place in their division. The season was highlighted by a very impressive win over the Division One champions, the Flyers from Maryvale.

Frank "Hobby" Habitzreuther was elected by his fellow teammates as the 1963-64 football captain. "Hobby" led his men to a successful season in winning six games and losing only two. Lancaster opened the season by defeating J. F. Kennedy High School by the score of 14-6. Before the taste of success was completely absorbed, the Tigers from Amherst came prowling with the strength of a March "lion" and handed the Redskins their first setback by the score of 31-0. Lancaster quickly recovered from this loss and won the next three contests by holding their opponents to 13 points. Aided by the strong spectator turnout, our football team defeated West Seneca 12-6, Williamsville 20-7, and Frontier 28-0. Traveling to Hamburg, the Redskins suffered a defeat at the hands of the Bulldogs by the close score of 26-13. Maryvale was then defeated and Lancaster faced Depew—the champions of Division Two. After a hard fought game by both teams, the onlookers at the packed stadium in Depew found Lancaster ahead at the end, by a score of 25-19.

Because of the fine season played by the members of the football team, several players on the Lancaster team have received special honors. Nick Turano, the speedy halfback, won a first string position on the division all-star team. Selected for the second team assignments were Jim Jutzin, John Gebhardt, and captain, Frank Habitzreuther. Phil Bulera, Louis Sallie, Dave Lipke, and Carl Kuras received honorable mentions □

j. v. football

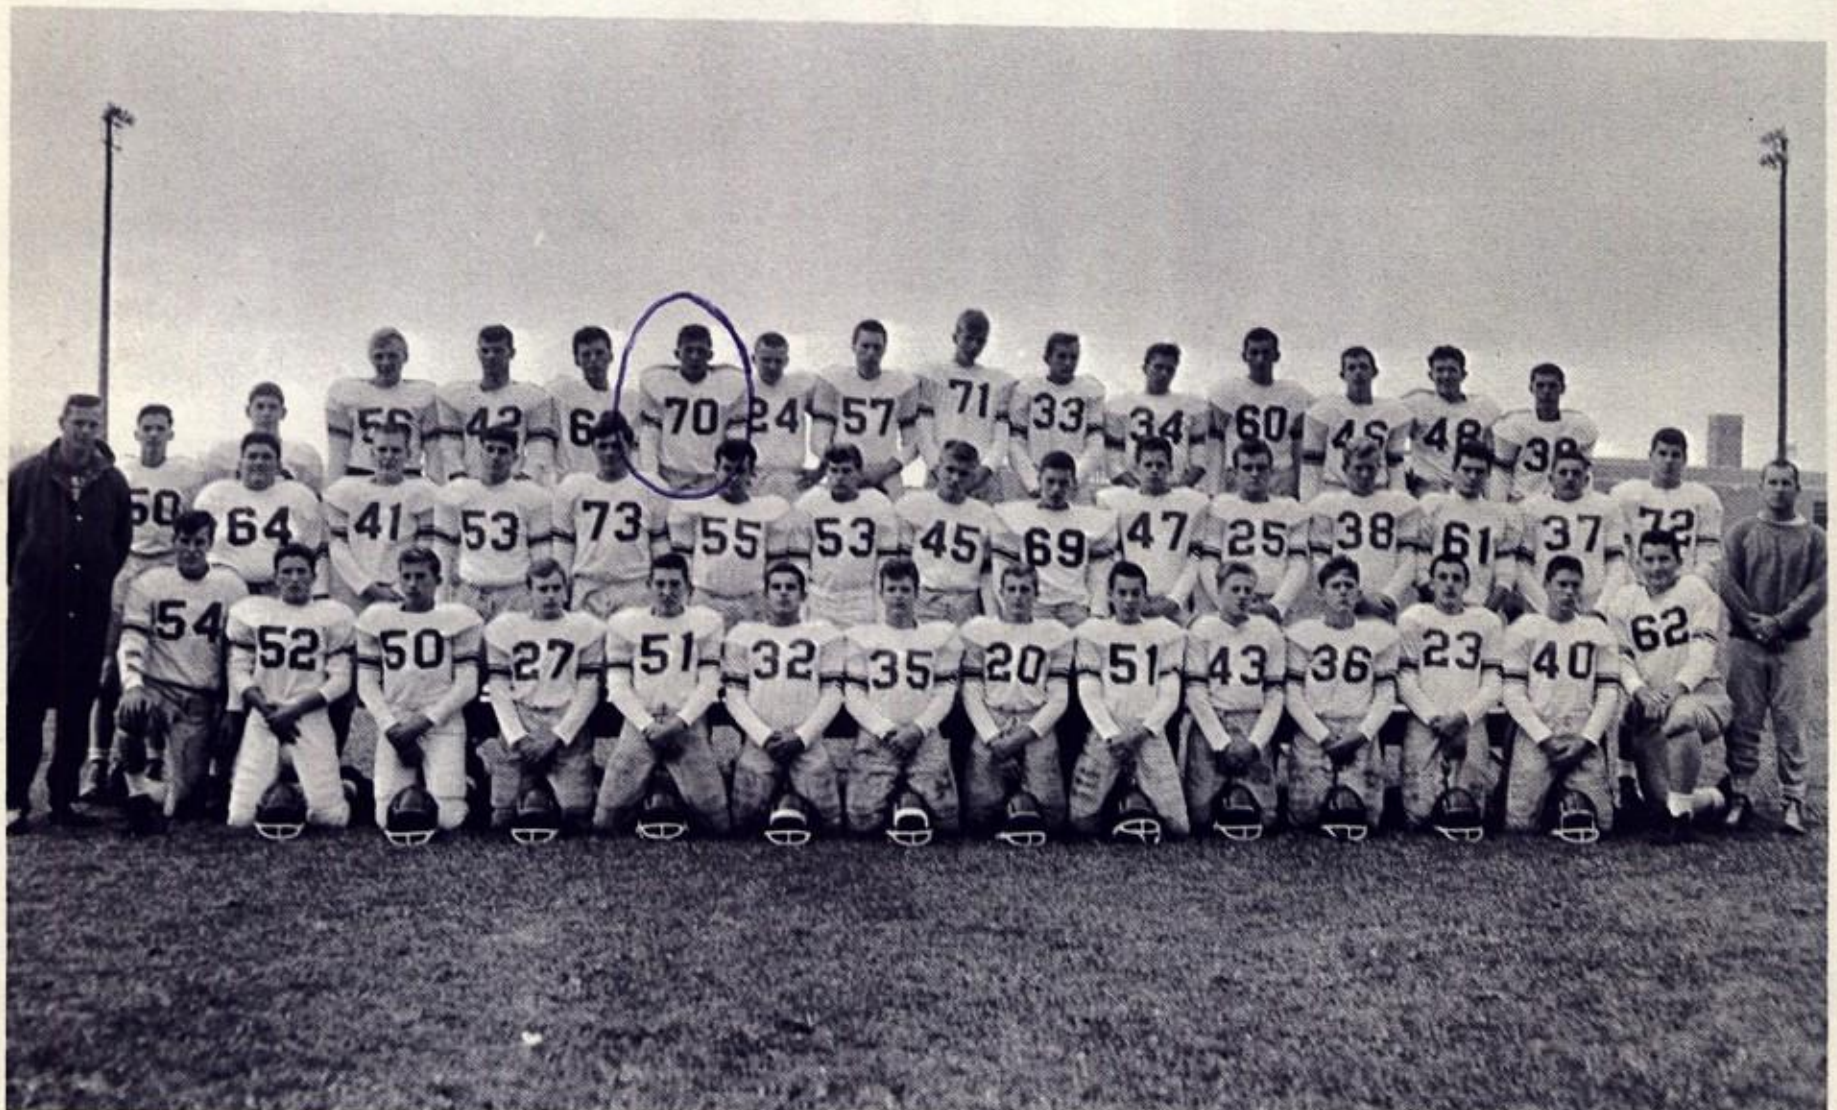

■ This year's Junior Varsity football team will long be remembered for putting Lancaster back on the winning track in J.V. football. This 1963 club won five and lost three, losing only to the "Giants" in Division I play.

If this year's team can be used for a measuring device for years to come in Lancaster football, then the future will certainly be "rosy."

This fine aggregation of athletes displayed terrific team spirit. This spirit should pave the way and become a goal of achievement for their successors for many years to come □

■ Because of the avid interest of Coach Foyle, Lancaster High School has again taken notice of an organization particular only to aspiring athletes. This organization is called the Block "L" and is important in fostering school spirit as well as athletic interest. To be granted admission into the Block "L," hopeful candidates must practice sportsman-like conduct and must have participated in a predetermined number of athletic activities on the varsity level. Upon admission, the letterman can proudly wear his "L" with knowledge that he has done his best as an athlete and student □

Miss Bartke,
 So a truly great teacher I've really enjoyed having. It was my best year of English and I'll never forget you. I hope to be seeing you alot this summer. Thanks for everything especially the talks we had. See you soon, and again
 THANKS
 Pauline

Miss Bartke, always remember the good times we had with Mr. Walter and the fulfilled year in the basket ball team.
 I'll never forget my Jr. year here at L.H.S. You have made it almost bearable. See you this summer at the beaches with the gang always

Dear Sweet Loveable
Miss Hartke, It's been the most wonderful year in school and you helped it so much. I like English a little bit more than I did and I hope I pass the exam. Thank you so much for helping me. I'll never forget my soph. year, the English Class and you. Take care of your red super sport, and yourself. Be Good & God Bless,

Keep smiling like the picture says. I always remember me, and believe me I'll never forget you. I hope to see you this summer and make sure you come out to the lake.
